Sustainable: 25 Year Milestone

A small locally owned Karana Downs business's journey can only be described by one's lifetime of an innate love and skill for truly sustainable design, architect carpentry, and a burning passion for the environment.

As a born and bred country kid from Gatton, Brett McKenzie's practical philosophy for sustainable practices was deeply shaped by his rural setting and invaluable overseas pursuit of construction industry training, mixed with life experiences. On returning to Australia, Brett realised a lifetime goal and established Sustainable Pty Ltd in the Karana Downs community.

Sustainable, a cutting-edge Design and Construction company of over 25 years, is totally engaged with respect towards the local environment, creating design-led solutions that embrace sustainable living in the built form and meet future community needs. This is the essence of lasting commitment to any community, according to CEO Brett McKenzie.

Experiencing industry success in Custom homes and their passion to make sustainable architecture accessible and affordable, Sustainable developed Recipe Housing, a unique design-led construction approach to modular build systems as a response to ever evolving markets.

Sustainable provides a suite of products with retrofitting of existing housing stock now being particularly critical to future energy results.

Sustainable's attention to detail, architectural sophistication in low energy/passive and powerful buildings, drives their mission to "Bringing the Built Environment to Life".

Sustainable has been proud to be awarded over 70 industry awards by their peers, locally, state and nationally, for their leadership in design and construction of sustainable homes.

Sustainable is committed to their belief – "By creating better buildings, we create better people".

Their design-led approach, life cycle modelling inspired by the environment, and always challenging the status quo has achieved outstanding outcomes for their clients and their long term nett worth.

Sustainable are celebrating 25 years of Custom Homes with dedication in making sustainable living accessible to everyone, buildings empowering lifestyles, stimulated by the local environment.

Sustainable reflects upon their great industry challenges and successes, giving thanks to those early and continued inspirational clients for their trust, belief and the privilege to allow them to excel, providing leadership in the industry.

"I have been in this arena at the coal face for 25 years trying to encourage change and I am excited that it seems the time has come to consider our impact." – Brett McKenzie
